

The Center for Race and Ethnicity Presents

Running Against Stereotype: Race, Gender, Age and Politics 2008

---

Stereotypes of race, age, and gender have defined this year in American politics: candidates for national office have been running not only against one another, but also pushing against (and reworking) public ideas about women, men, age, and race. Join us for a cross-disciplinary roundtable discussion among Rutgers faculty on the role of identity and images in American politics.

- RUTH MANDEL (Eagleton Institute of Politics)
- NIKOL ALEXANDER-FLOYD (Department of Women's and Gender Studies)
- DAVID GREENBERG (Departments of History/Journalism and Media Studies)
- LEE JUSSIM (Department of Psychology)
- JANE JUNN (Department of Political Science/Eagleton Institute of Politics)

---

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3rd

12:30 P.M.

(LUNCH WILL BE PROVIDED)

ALEXANDER LIBRARY, PANE ROOM

CO-SPONSORED BY THE LIBRARIES AND THE EAGLETON INSTITUTE OF POLITICS

For more information, see <http://www.raceethnicity.rutgers.edu>, 732/932-2181