9 AM-5 PM

PANE ROOM, ALEXANDER LIBRARY

A ONE-DAY COLLOQUIUM

AN OPEN INVITATION TO ALL RUTGERS FACULTY:

COME, PRESENT, PARTICIPATE

On Friday, March 27th, the Center for Race and Ethnicity will host its 3rd annual day-long meeting for Rutgers scholars doing research relating to race and ethnicity. This meeting brings together faculty from across schools, disciplines, and departments. We encourage faculty from all parts of the university to attend, share work, meet colleagues, and hear about new research at Rutgers. This meeting is part of an ongoing initiative to promote interdisciplinary exchange and intellectual collaborations, and to shape the evolving agenda of the Center for Race and Ethnicity. This event is open to all Rutgers faculty and graduate students.

The line-up from our past two forums may be viewed on our website at <http://raceethnicity.rutgers.edu/2007FacultyForumOnRaceAndEthnicity.html>
& <http://raceethnicity.rutgers.edu/Spring2006Colloquium.htm>

Faculty who wish to present 5 minute descriptions of their work in to-be-arranged panels, and to participate in conversation about research trends and developments, are asked to send: a brief description of your work, a CV, and your contact information to: raceethnicity@sas.rutgers.edu. Recently hired faculty members are especially encouraged to attend and speak about their work. PLEASE RSVP by Friday March 13th.

Full program details will follow shortly. Breakfast, lunch and refreshments will be provided.

If you cannot attend the faculty forum, but are interested in learning more about the Center, please contact us. Send a CV, a paragraph-long description of your research, and contact information, so we can keep you informed of future meetings and events.
