

THE CENTER FOR RACE AND ETHNICITY PRESENTS

(Un)Natural Disasters: Race, Poverty and Relief

A Roundtable Discussion

Thursday, March 25, 2010, 12:00 PM
191 College Avenue, 1st Floor, New Brunswick, NJ

What is the relationship between poverty, race and natural disasters?

What pre-existent conditions make communities more or less resilient in the face of an earthquake, hurricane, or other disaster?

Join Rutgers faculty from a variety of disciplines as they explore how historical and structural factors contribute to creating the "un-natural" aspects of disasters.

This event is part of Rutgers "Week of Action," sponsored by NJPIRG, to benefit victims of the Haiti earthquake.
