

5TH ANNUAL GRADUATE FORUM ON RACE & ETHNICITY

A cross-disciplinary forum that brings together Rutgers graduate students to exchange ideas about research and approaches to the study of race and ethnicity.

✎ Featuring presentations by Rutgers graduate students on a wide spectrum of topics from diversity and equity in education, the politics of multi-racial identity, and places linked to racial or ethnic identity formation. Plus a Q & A session with Rutgers faculty featuring advice on how to finish writing your dissertation, going on the job market, and how to find a book publisher for your dissertation. ✎

Friday, February 17, 2012
Center for Race & Ethnicity Offices
191 College Avenue, CAC
9:30am-3:30pm

This event is free and open to all Rutgers graduate & professional students.
Lunch will be provided for all attendees. Please RSVP at CREgradforum@gmail.com.

Organized by: Isra Ali (Media Studies), Jahaira Arias (History), Christopher Hayes (History), Shatima J. Jones (Sociology), and Wendy Wright (Political Science).
