

8th Faculty Forum on Race and Ethnicity
December 6, 2013
Scholarly Communications Center, Alexander Library, College Avenue Campus
Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

9:30am Continental Breakfast Available

10:00 - 10:45am Panel I: Race, Place, and Space

“Paradise Without Labor”: How Oil Missed its Utopian Moment

David Hughes (Anthropology, Rutgers-NB)

Interethnic Relations in the Divided Capital of Cyprus

Anita Bakshi (Center for Cultural Analysis, Rutgers-NB)

Race and Place: The Visible and Invisible Spaces in Southern African American Yards

Richard Alomar (Landscape Architecture, SEBS, Rutgers-NB)

10:50 - 11:35am Panel II: Diversity and Acculturation

The Positive Feedback Bias to Minorities

Kent Harber (Psychology, Rutgers-Newark)

The Promise of Diversity: Vindicating our Constitutional Ambitions for Pluralist Democracy

Stacy Hawkins (Rutgers School of Law-Camden)

Le Roux: Complexity of Race, Class and Status of New Orleans Women, 1803-1865

Katrina Thompson (History, Rutgers-NB)

11:45 - 12:20pm Panel III: The Global South

Centering the Global South: Indigenous Modernities in Indian and South African Literatures

Mukti Lakhi Mangharam (English, Rutgers-NB)

When Africa was in Vogue

Olabode Ibiroinke (English, Rutgers-NB)

12:20 - 1:30pm Lunch